Essay

Historically, labor unions have been deeply interested in job security provisions, and management traditionally possesses an on-going responsibility to enhance the economic interests of their organization. Many observers of the historic labor-management relationship believe these two primary interests are mutually exclusive, a win-lose outcome.

On a separate page, please submit a typed, double-spaced essay of approximately 1,000 words describing in detail at least three (3) collective bargaining provisions which labor and management could negotiate into their collective bargaining agreement to simultaneously/mutually satisfy both parties' primary interests of job security and economic enhancement. You may be as creative as you care to be. Innovative concepts are welcomed! The essay must include a cover page that lists the applicant's name, home address, phone number and the name of the applicant's educational institution.
